DECLARES THAT THE BENEFITS ARE Too Remote FOR CANADA—KNOCKS RECIPROCITY

Crime Of Murder Was Almost Forgotten

Man Convicted of Murder Committed
Fourteen Years Ago.

Washington, Pa., Sept. 8.—After 14 years of freedom, during which the record of his crime had grown musty in the vaults of two courthouses, and many witnesses of the tragedy had died, Abraham Martin, a former resident of Washington, was convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing rear here on July 5, 1897, of Edward Mull.

Martin was arrested a few days ago in McKeesport. At the close of the trial it came to light that an indictment for murder also had been found against Martin in Allegheny county, where his victim died after being shot in this county.

Martin shot down Mull in cold blood after the latter attempted to act as peacemaker between Martin and his wife. Martin was sentenced to serve from five to 20 years in the penitentiary.

Youngstown, O., Aug. 25.—A slip of the furnace when seven men were cleaning out the cinder monkey in a mill at the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company enveloped them in a sheet of flame and blast of red-hot cinders, fatally injuring two and seriously burning the five others.

Rudyard Kipling Knocks Reciprocity Among Canadians.

WRITES TO MONTREAL PAPER

English Author Sees Nothing but Ruin Ahead For Dominion If Trade Agreement Is Ratified and Raps at Profligate Manner in Which Uncle Sam Has Dissipated His Natural Resources—Tells People They Will Repent at Leisure.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 8.—That Canada has nothing to gain and everything to lose by the proposed reciprocity treaty, and that the United States, having squandered its natural resources, is now seeking a cheaper living from the virgin fields to its north, are two of the opinions expressed in a letter written by Rudyard Kipling to the Montreal Star. The letter follows:

"I don't understand how nine million people can enter into such arrangements as are proposed with ninety million strangers on an open frontier of 4,000 miles and at the same time preserve their national integrity.

"Ten to one is too heavy odds. No single Canadian would accept such odds in any private matter that was as vital to him personally as this is to the nation.

"It is her own soul that Canada risks today. Once that soul is pawned for any consideration, Canada must inevitably conform to the commercial, legal, financial, social and ethical standards which will be imposed on her.

The Whitney WEDDING SIMPLE Display Lacking

Geneva, Sept. 8.—Miss Dorothy Payne Whitney was married here to Willard D. Straight. The bride is the daughter of the late William S. Whitney of New York, secretary of the navy in the cabinet of Grover Cleveland. The civil ceremony was performed at the City hall, with only the witnesses present. The religious ceremony was performed later at the American church by the Rev. T. A. Jaggard of New York. Harry Payne Whitney gave the bride away. Straight is the son of a missionary and a representative of the Morgan Banking syndicate.

Felon Caught At Home

Escaped Murderer Returns From Hiding Place in Mountains.

Uniontown, Pa., Sept. 8.—B. Frank Smith, the double murderer who broke jail nine weeks ago, was arrested here when he ventured from the mountains for the first time to greet his wife at their home. Cleverly disguised, Smith managed to walk boldly through Uniontown until he reached his home on the outskirts.

His wife was surprised to see him, for it had been supposed that Smith had either starved or killed himself while outlawed in the mountains between this place and Cumberland. Others had seen the stranger walk into the Smith residence and soon the police had the tip and a sheriff's posse was at the house.

LITTLE STAKED ON ACQUITTAL

General Belief Prevails That Jury Will Convict Young Man For Murder of His Wife or Disagree—Alleged Eye Witness to Crime Not Called to Stand—Prosecutor Says Testimony Is Not Necessary—Beulah Binford Off For Metropolis.

Chesterfield C. H., Va., Sept. 8.—With the end of the Beattie trial only a few hours' distant, the citizens of Richmond are speculating upon what the verdict will be. Prophecy seems to be fairly divided between a hung jury and conviction. Very few expect acquittal. In some downtown saloons handbooks are being made on the verdict. Six to five was offered and, taken in several cases for conviction, and ten to one that Beattie would walk out of the Chesterfield courthouse a free man.

Prosecutor Wendenburg received word from Chicago confirming his belief in the credibility of the twelfth-hour witness who wrote to him confessing that he had seen the murder of Mrs. Beattie on Midlothian turnpike. It is believed that Wendenburg has sent orders to the chief of police of Chicago directing him to hold this witness until he receives further orders. In a long conversation over the telephone Luther Scherer, chief of the prosecution's detectives, received from a lawyer in Chicago, who had examined the volunteer witness sufficient verification of the truth of the man's story to cause Wendenburg to act immediately.

Wendenburg Explains.

Wendenburg said that he would make no move to reopen the case of the prosecution and put this new witness on the stand. He believes that his case is strong enough to secure a conviction without this dramatic introduction of an eye-witness story at the last minute. But he is preparing to have the man in Chicago who so minutely described the incidents of the killing on the Midlothian turnpike brought on here to be used against Beattie in case the jury in the present trial fails to reach an agreement.

NEW GUN PUT TO HARD TEST

Battleships and Cruises of Atlantic Fleet Give Severe Jolt to Theory That Aerial Navigators Can Drop Explosives at Will On Decks of Vessels—Sharpshooters Given Their Turn—Work of Searchlight Pleases Admiral Osterhaus.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 8.—When gunners on the battleships Louisiana and Mississippi and the scout cruiser Salem destroyed five aeroplanes and those on the Virginia, New Hampshire, North Carolina and Connecticut seven more, it was fully demonstrated that the newly-invented three-inch gun, especially designed to destroy airships, aeroplanes and other aerial crafts that may be constructed in the future, is capable of doing all that is claimed for it. The aeroplanes or box-kites were made fast to the torpedo boats and several battleships. They were permitted to soar to heights of 500, 800 and 1,200 feet.

The shooting at night was conducted with the aid of searchlights and without them. Tiny lights tied in the box-kites furnished the only illumination for the gunners.

In addition to the newly-invented gun, the sharpshooters on the Louisiana did some excellent work with small arms.

The night work exceeded expectations and the high scores registered by the gunners greatly pleased Admiral Osterhaus. Today the entire fleet, excepting the cruiser Washington, will participate in aeroplane shooting. Every ship in the fleet has from three to five aeroplanes on board, and it is presumed that the gunners will be called on to destroy them at heights ranging from 500 to 1,200 feet.

Robbers' Victims Are Found On Mountain

Two Men Ambushed and Relieved of Payroll.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 8.—Dead in their carriage the bodies of Joseph Zehner and Samuel Watkins were found on the top of the mountain between Lansford and Nesquehoning. Both had been shot, evidently from ambush. A box containing about $3,000, with which half a hundred hands at the Nesquehoning coal strippings were to have been paid, was gone. There is no clue to the murderer or murderers.

Probing Milk Prices

Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—State Dairy and Food Commissioner Strode started investigating the advance in prices of milk and cream in Ohio cities. He will learn whether farmers supplying milk to the retail dealers are receiving more money for milk now than before Sept. 1. The recent drought no longer affects the pastures, Strode says.

What One Daring Young Aviator Accomplished In Four Months

Photos by American Press Association.

HARRY NELSON ATWOOD of Boston, twenty-seven years old, has been crowned king of all aviators because of his wonderful achievements in the art of aviation. His success is the more remarkable from the fact that it was only on last Memorial day that he made his initial flight. His record of four months not only does credit to the young man, but opens amazing possibilities to the imagination. On June 30 he made a flight from Boston to New London, Conn., carrying his mechanic as a passenger. The next day he flew to New York. On July 3 he flew to Atlantic City on his way to Washington, arriving at the latter city on July 13. On Aug. 14 he started from St. Louis and arrived at New York on Aug. 23. With these laurels Atwood may conclude to retire from the flying game. He realizes that the art has not yet been perfected to the point of safety to aviators and admits that he is seriously considering quitting before he "gets his." In the illustration Atwood is shown flying down the Hudson river and again just as he landed at Governors island.

Judge Sets Tomorrow Morning For Passing of Sentence.

Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—Attorneys for the defense in the Rodney J. Diegel case have been notified by Judge E. B. Kinkead, before whom Diegel was found guilty, to have their client in court for sentence tomorrow morning. No capias has been issued for Diegel and so far as the officials of the Franklin county courts now know, he will appear voluntarily. The penalty for soliciting and accepting bribes is not more than five years in the penitentiary and not more than $500 fine, either or both.

Pullman Hit For More Tax

Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—The state tax commission has certified to State Auditor Fullington the increase in the proportions of capital of sleeping car and freight line companies doing business in Ohio at $2,496,763, as against $1,766,388 in 1910, an increase of $730,375. The largest increase was in the stock of the Pullman company, the only sleeping car company doing business in this state. The figures were $1,287,347 against $928,603 in 1910.

GRAVEL BANK CAVED LEG CRUSHED UNDER MASS OF EARTH

Mr. Fout Kneisley, living on the W. W. Fenner farm in Paint township, is suffering from a broken leg, sustained while at work in the gravel pit near the Klever school house south of Yatesville.

Mr. Kneisley while engaged in caving the bank, was caught under a heavy wall of earth and his right leg snapped in two below the knee. He had a close call from more serious injury.

Other workmen assisted in removing Mr. Kneisley and assisting him to his home a mile away. Physicians were summoned and gave the broken limb attention.

While the Brown gravel pit is one of the oldest in the county and has furnished many thousands of loads of gravel for the roads of northern Fayette, this is the first time a workman has been so seriously injured.

Executor's Sale Of Real Estate

At executor's sale, the residence property of Mrs. Fent, in Jeffersonville, sold for $2470, being knocked down to A. G. Blessing. The farm of 157 acres near Jeffersonville brought $151.50 per acre, Mr. A. B. Creamer being the purchaser.

This is an unusually large price for land, but the farm in question is a rattling good one.

VOGEL'S MINSTREL.

One of the many features to be presented by John W. Vogel's Big City Minstrels, which will appear at the Empire Theater on Tuesday, September 12th, is a beautiful and up-to-date dancing number, entitled, "The Great Event". The idea was conceived by Manager Vogel and arranged by Barney Fagin, the world's master producer of intricate dances and terpsichorean movements. The scene is laid at the famous Sheephead Bay race course, and the prancing thoroughbreds are at the post awaiting the signal for the start, they get word "They're off," hoofbeats are heard in the distance and immediately after the finish the jockeys appear neatly attired in the regulation colors, representing the world's famous owners and stake winners.

William Rowe, the famous and world-renowned solo clog dancer, has been engaged to rehearse and produce the act in the absence of Mr. Fagin, whose foreign engagements prevent his doing so.

Man With Broken Back Is Slowly Recovering

Jeffersonville Postmaster Finishes Modern Home

Postmaster W. W. Williams, of Jeffersonville, has just completed one of the most modern of homes in that enterprising town, and moved into the new residence on Friday.

Mr. Williams has an ideal location just opposite the town hall, and the structure is fully equipped with all modern conveniences from the bath room to the automatic hot water plant.

The building is constructed after plans made by Frank M. Kennedy and W. A. Sanders of this city, and is a most convenient and attractive residence. It contains seven rooms, hall and bath, with three large basement rooms. It is finished in oak, and not only handsome, but most substantial. All who have examined the new residence pronounce it the most attractive and best planned of any home of its size they have ever beheld.

Broken Health Dr. Caswell Quits

After a number of years of efficient service in which time he has built up a large patronage, Dr. H. E. Caswell, dentist of Jeffersonville, has announced his intention of selling his entire property and seeking the restoration of his fast waning health in the mild climate of Florida.

Dr. Caswell has been in declining health for many months, and it is due to this that he leaves Jeffersonville. He is the only dentist in the town, and has been busy from early until late for months. He will hold a public sale soon, and will leave immediately for Florida, his family preceding him to their new home this week.

Making Books on Life or Death of Beattin

The prosecutor does not feel that the charge of an acquittal is serious enough to warrant his delaying the trial for the added number of days necessary to bring the witness on from Chicago and put him on the witness stand.

There is every indication that the case will go to the jury tonight. Two of the lawyers finished their summing up speeches after the little brick courthouse had bulged for seven hours with oratory. Today Attorney Harry Smith will say the last word for the accused and Wendenburg will round off the case for the commonwealth. Since Judge Watson charged the jury, the jury will be able to retire as soon as Wendenburg finishes his summing up.

Beattie's two lawyers could not conceal their delight over the tenor of Judge Watson's charge to the jury. Laymen and visiting lawyers who heard it were both struck with the strong admonitions favorable to the defendant which were included therein. Though there was a hint of favor in the long charge, Judge Watson left no opportunity for a reversal by the court of appeals because of failure to guard every possible right of the accused. He dwelt at length upon the import of circumstantial evidence, which is the only kind of evidence entered against Beattie in this case.

Judge Warns Against Confession. Judge Watson also drove hard at the strongest point of the commonwealth's case when he alluded to the value the jury was to place upon the alleged confession Henry Beattie made to his cousin, Paul, two nights after the murder, wherein he said, according to Paul's testimony, that he "would give a million dollars if this thing could be undone."

Beulah Binford, the girl whose name has been so closely linked with that of the prisoner during the trial, and Paul Beattie, the cousin, were both released from the Henrico county jail in Richmond. They had been held there for over a month as commonwealth witnesses.

Beulah Binford would not leave the jail after the order for her release came until almost time for the departure of the noon train for Washington and New York. Then she hurried down to the station by taxicab in the company of a New York vaudeville booking agent and took the northbound train. She expects to turn her unsavory notoriety into cash as a vaudeville attraction in New York, unless Mayor Gaynor should forbid her appearance there. Richmond papers are prophesying that he will.

This year has witnessed the building of a large number of fine homes in Jefferson township and Jeffersonville, and at the present time the most expensive residence in Jeffersonville is nearing completion. It is a handsome pressed brick residence containing 12 rooms, modern throughout, and when completed will represent an outlay of nearly $10,000.

Among the prosperous farmers in the township who are completing modern homes are George Crumrine, of near Pleasant View; E. D. Straley, Val Heironimus, John S. Fent, while W. S. Draper, just over the line in Paint township, is also building a splendid residence.

In addition to these a number of smaller residences have been erected, and several large barns. The building boom has been taking possession of Jefferson township this summer.

Mu derer Jones Scare In Bloomingburg Vicinity

Residents of the section near Bloomingburg, in the vicinity of the J. W. Willis farm two miles north of Bloomingburg, were sure that Chas. Jones, colored murderer of Cincinnati, was making his home in that neighborhood this week, and made an effort to capture him, but to no avail.

The man, who answered the description given of the Cincinnati murderer, had been hanging about a piece of timber for several days, and his actions were so mysterious that Marshal Hal Worrell, of Bloomingburg, was notified and telephoned to Jeffersonville for Marshal Edwards and the bloodhounds in order to trail the fellow.

Marshal Edwards and two or three men in an automobile hurried over to where the negro had last been seen, but could find no trail. It is claimed that when the fellow saw the men he took no time in making his escape.

It is thought the alarm was a false one, and that the real Chas. Jones has never been near Bloomingburg, although it is possible that he could have been.

B. A. Arbogast, formerly of this city, who purchased a small tract of ground and erected a small store building at the intersection of the Prairie pike and State road near the Glascock farm in Paint township, has disposed of the entire property to Mr. C. D. Bush, who owns one of the largest stores in Jeffersonville. Mr. Arbogast was forced to sell his property on account of failing health, and we are informed, must seek a dry climate to prolong his life.

Joseph Hidy, former resident of Jefferson township, but who has been conducting a store at Reesville in Clinton county, has been placed in charge of the store. Owing to the location of the store, a large number of the farmers do considerable trading at the place.

Since the erection of the store and a blacksmith shop some three years ago, the crossroads has assumed the somewhat unpretentious name of "Hentown".

Twenty-sixth Anniversary Of Big Cyclone

Twenty-six years ago tonight, September 8th, at just eight minutes after eight o'clock, this city was struck by one of the worst wind and electrical storms which ever swept over this section of the country.

The memory of that awful night of death and destruction is still vivid with many Washington people, who need no reminder of the anniversary of its occurrence. Passing years have not dulled the fear of storms which that night was born.

Many people live over the terrible events of that night whenever an unusually heavy storm threatens.

Poland Chinas Louisville Fair

The Klever-Doyle herd of Poland Chinas, owned by Messrs. Ed Klever and John Doyle, that has been noted prize winners at the International Stock Show of Chicago as well as numerous State Fairs, will be exhibited for the first time this year at the State Fair of Louisville, Ky., next week.

Mr. John Doyle started Thursday with the herd of porkers, 20 head of splendid specimens. Mr. Ed Klever will go on the first of the week in time for the judging.

ROSS COUNTY HORNETS' NEST A MERRY WAR IS NOW ON SCHOOL EXAMINER CIRCLES

There is a merry old row on in the Ross county school examiners board and Superintendent Kirkendall, of the Chillicothe schools has resigned as a member of the county board.

In his lengthy letter of resignation to Probate Judge Garrett S. Claypool, he gives his reasons for resigning and makes serious charges against Wade J. Beyerly, the clerk of the county board, stating that the clerk has been entirely too free in issuing certificates which had been signed up in blank by the board members.

In his letter of resignation Sup't. Kirkendall announces that he is fully cognizant of the bitter fight which the step he has taken will precipitate.

In this the indications prove that he will not be mistaken, as a veritable hornet's nest in school circles has been opened up by the charges which are sensational in the extreme.

Irish Lad Again Wins

At the Pike County Fair races at Waverly yesterday, the local horse Irish Lad, owned by the Mallow boys, won the 2:19 pace, purse $300, in three straight heats.

The summary of the race:
Irish Lad, b. g., by Tany (Mallow) 1 1 1
Bobby Bogun, blk. g., by Bogun (Vallery) 3 2 2
Frolic, br. g., by Bonnie Prince (Tansy) 2 3 5
Major Holland, s. g., by Di-rectwell (Creagton) 4 4 4
Time—2:17½, 2:16¼, 2:16¼.

This horse has made a splendid record on the track this year and bids fair to become a "bread winner" for his owners.

Big Prices Paid For Farm Land

One of the most notable of recent farm sales was that of the late Job McKay land, this side of Sabina, held Thursday, when nearly 1000 acres of fine farm lands realized $112,000.

It was a very large sale attended by prospective buyers and farmers from a wide radius of territory.

Most of the land was bought in by the McKay heirs. Mrs. H. C. Burris, a daughter, purchased the home place, 181 acres, at $132.50 per acre.

Mr. Charles McKay, of Sabina, the son, bought 376 acres at $122.50 per acre and Mrs. C. O. Deer, of Selden, another daughter, 200 acres at $110.20 an acre.

Col. B. H. Millikan, who owns large farms in the immediate vicinity of the McKay lands, purchased 126 acres at $152.50 per acre. The entire 887 acres averaged $126.00 per acre.

Auctioneer Scott, of this city, cried the sale with much success and to the entire satisfaction of interested parties.

THAT GOOD JEWELRY

With years of dependability back of it, at a price equal to any and better than many should interest discriminating buyers.

JEWELERS

Washington C. H., Ohio

Autos and carriages whirled the guests out to the country home of the McLeans, the bright, beautiful day making the drive an added delight.

Few country homes are more attractive than the McLean home, high on the terraced lawn, with its immense verandah overlooking a fine view and its large grounds perfectly kept.

The interior is admirably arranged, with immense living room, connected with the adjoining rooms, and artistic mural decoration, against which vases of fall roses in delicate lines, gave added grace.

The hostess, wearing a smart gown of embroidered blue voile, with relief of crushed raspberry, gave cordial greeting on the verandah.

Always a favorite in Washington circles, the guests were eager to meet Mrs. Riddle, who was so sweet and charming a bride that the march stolen upon her friends was immediately forgiven. She wore a handsome gown of striped blue silk, with trimmings of Irish lace and hunter's green velvet.

Mrs. George Fabb, of Cincinnati, was also in the receiving line and looking exceedingly well in a beautiful gown of white marquisette, with inserts of Irish crochet and trimmings of coral velvet.

Assisting the hostess was Mrs. D. H. Van Winkle, in white mull and lace.

There were also a number of chic summer toilets in evidence, among the fifty young women who entered into a spiley "500" game.

Mrs. William W. Westerfield, of New Orleans, La., won the trophy of the game, a handsome silver fork, and Mrs. Riddle was presented with the guest favor, a cluney center piece.

After the game an elaborate course luncheon was served.

Among the guests were Mrs. E. E. Ustick, of Columbus; Mrs. W. W. Westerfield, of New Orleans, and Miss Helen Steece, of Ironton.

"Panama Canal" Moving Slowly

The Market street sewer, or "Panama Canal" is still creeping forward at a snail's gallop, and has reached a point opposite the Presbyterian church, where it is 17 feet in depth.

A man hole is being constructed in the center of the Market-Hinde street crossing, and it resembles a well because of its great depth.

Work is tedious to say the least, and only a few feet progress can be made each day by the half score of workmen employed on the trench.

DIES IN HOSPITAL.

A sad death, that of Mrs. Alton Rhoades, occurred at the Hodson hospital Thursday afternoon about four o'clock.

Mrs. Rhoades who was a patient of Dr. McFadden, was brought to the hospital in a critical condition two weeks ago. She underwent an operation but there was no cure possible.

She leaves a husband and five little children and is a young woman not much over thirty.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhoades lived on the Ellis Hays' farm on the Lewis pike.

The remains were taken to the home of Mrs. Rhoades' sister, Mrs. Johnson, on Gregg street, last night.

Funeral services Saturday at 10 a. m. at the residence. Burial in Washington cemetery.

SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE MEETING OF THE I. O. O. F. TEMPLE LODGE ON QUI VIVE

Big Meeting in Indianapolis on September 16

MONSTER PAGEANT IS PLANNED

Special Train Will Carry One Hundred Local Men to Meeting

Temple Lodge, No. 227, of this city, is on the qui vive with interest over the approaching encampment of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., which convenes the 16th of this month at Indianapolis, Ind.

A monster pageant is planned, which is expected to outshine any parade ever seen in Indianapolis.

The flags of all nations and a group of mounted Hussars from Columbus, O., members of the Patriarchs Militant, who will act as escort to the officers of the Grand Lodge and the Grand Sire will take part in the parade. A novel division in the parade will be composed of the sons of Odd Fellows, which it is expected will include 1000 boys from 12 to 21 years of age.

The most exciting feature of the convention will be the drill put on by the degree staffs. The Sovereign Lodge offers cash prizes aggregating $7,575, to winners in the drill and sixty-three degree teams will compete.

Temple Lodge is the only degree staff in the state of Ohio that is competing with the First Degree staffs, of which there are 13 competitors from all over the United States, and $4,000 offered in prizes.

For the past five months the 40 members of the First Degree staff of Temple Lodge, H. D. Chaffin, captain, have been conferring this degree. It is the most dramatic degree in the order, with immense possibilities for pageantry and brilliancy.

The local staff is doing magnificent work and those who have witnessed the First degree as put on by other staffs are sanguine over their winnifn in the Grand Lodge contest.

If the Temple Lodge staff is beaten the winning team will certainly have to put on work never shown heretofore. The members of the staff have devoted strenuous work and unlimited time to the perfection of this gorgeous First degree.

It is expected that 100 Odd Fellows will accompany the First Degree staff to Indianapolis from here.

State Auto Inspector Pays Washington Visit

Mr. Patrick Kelly, the State Automobile Inspector, came quietly into this city this morning for the purpose of making a personal investigation as to whether or not all the requirements of the State law relative to automobile dealers, owners, chauffeurs, mechanics and helpers were being observed. Of course, Mr. Kelly's visit was unannounced and he proceeded at once with his work.

Mr. Kelly is a genial gentleman and reports that in his travels over the state he finds very little intentional violation of the provisions of the automobile laws. As a rule he says that violations are more through a lack of knowledge or a lack of appreciation of the importance of the provisions of the law. His business, he says, is "to explain and instruct and if occasion demands, prosecute violators of the law. The last mentioned however, he says he has not had frequent occasion to resort to.

In this city he found two dealers without licenses, but both readily agreed to take out a license at once.

Mr. Kelly highly compliments all the local people connected with the automobile business as gentlemanly, courteous men and he rates them very high as automobile law observers.

Mr. James Minshall's class of the Christian church, will hold a provision sale at Haines' furniture store Saturday, Sept. 9th, opening at 9 o'clock.

REMAINS OF MRS. ROWLAND ARRIVE.

The remains of Mrs. Minnie Rowland arrived here this morning on the 10:30 B. & O. train from Colorado Springs, Colo., and were taken to Elmer Klever's undertaking rooms to remain until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, then to be taken to Bloomington, where the funeral will take place at 10 o'clock. Burial in Washington cemetery.

NEXT MONDAY MORNING WHEN THE BELL RINGS
THEY'LL GO TROOPING OFF TO SCHOOL.

THAT means the clothes supply must be replenished with shoes, stockings, suits, waists, dresses, trousers or whatever may be lacking. Children's Outfitting is one of our hobbies. We have made it a study, with the object in view of securing things for them which would stand WEAR. The result of these endeavors we offer you at no greater prices than are charged elsewhere for similar articles which lack the wearing qualities.

Boys' Shoes. "The American Boy" and "Good for Bad Boys" shoes are two of the best shoes possible to produce, made in tan and black leathers with medium or high tops, of Elkskin and Puritan Calf. If your boy is hard on shoes get him a pair—they'll hold him.

Playmate Shoes for Misses and Children; a shoe for girls, built on sensible lines with good broad toes and wide extension soles

Cadet and Pony Stockings are made with heels toes and knees of linen, giving the greatest resistance at the points of wear. Your boys and girls will find in these stockings more service than they usually find in two pairs of the ordinary kind.

School Suits and Trousers. Or if your boy just needs a coat to complete his outfit we can fit him from a line of separate coats we have that we are closing out at remarkably low prices.

AGED WOMAN IS HURT
VICTIM OF STRANGE ACCIDENT

Mrs. Crouse, widow of the late George Crouse, who resides on the Frankfort road about four miles east of this city, with her son, Earnest Crouse, was the victim of a peculiar and painful accident Thursday night. In the dusk of the evening she was walking about the yard when a playful calf ran suddenly around the corner of the house and struck her with great force. Mrs. Crouse was knocked down and trampled upon and received a number of severe bruises.

Mrs. Crouse was not seriously hurt but her bruises are quite painful to one of her advanced age.

Recreant Husband Plays Baby Act

Mrs. H. T. Kennard, of Wilmington, whose husband deserted her July 24, and enlisted in the regular army at Pittsburg, and was later sent to the Columbus barracks, was circulating a petition praying Governor Harmon to use his good offices to secure Kennard's discharge. Mrs. Kennard visited her husband and he told her he was unduly and improperly influenced to leave his home and join the army and that he was in such a condition he was not accountable for his actions at the time. He is anxious to return home.

THE PRIMARIES.

Tuesday's primary election, taken the state over, discloses the existence of two important facts.

The first is that the voters of the state are beginning to regard the primaries seriously and are inclining more and more to lay hold of the instrument which the legislature has, by the enactment of the primary law, placed in their hands.

It has been a problem ever since the present law went into effect whether or not the people would recognize the opportunity for good which it afforded and go out to the polls and vote.

In the larger cities of the state the vote was large enough to very strongly indicate that the people are going to vote in the primaries hereafter.

In the smaller cities the vote was light, especially in the minority party primary and many still insist that the law will not work out according to theory in the smaller municipalities.

The second important fact disclosed by the result is that wherever good government stood out boldly as an issue, its advocates were almost universally successful when the counting out of votes was completed.

Bad municipal administrations were repudiated and good ones were vindicated and ratified, as a general thing by handsome majorities.

This last mentioned fact is the one which the advocates of the present law insisted would be inevitable if the voters would go out and vote and it appears now from the heavy vote cast in the larger cities that the voters are realizing that fact now.

The general inclination to vote which was evidenced by the primary and the triumph of better things are wholesome signs.

DEATHS BY DROWNING.

This is the season of the year when deaths by drowning are most frequent. Every Monday morning's paper and every holiday tells of a toll of young lives paid for foolishness or accidents that might have been avoided. Until well on in September these casualties will continue.

As the result of old traditions there is in many places too ready acquiescence in the belief that a person who has been under water for five or ten minutes or even fifteen or twenty minutes is necessarily dead. There are well-authenticated records of the resuscitation of persons who had been submerged for half an hour or even longer. Such cases occur particularly in women and children, in whom the fright at finding themselves in danger of drowning brings on a collapse or faint in which the heart and breathing stop and they sink, but low grade life processes continue for a considerable period. Strong men who have battled for their lives and then sunk are not so often revived, though if taken with a cramp they too may suffer from shock or fright with the resultant collapse that is apparently nature's method of giving the longest possible opportunity for life under these circumstances. In such cases, efforts to revive the drowned person should not be abandoned until all chance of resuscitation is gone, says The Journal of the American Medical Association in a recent editorial on the subject.

Patients have been reported as not breathing for fifteen minutes to half an hour and yet they have been resuscitated.

Ordinarily the methods of resuscitation are and ought properly to be exercised at the scene of the accident. Often the person is pronounced dead even before a physician has seen him. Only rarely are such cases transported to hospitals to be treated. The ordinary methods of artificial respiration might well be carried on in an ambulance and then in the hospital itself. Recourse might be had to any procedures, even surgical, that seem to give the slightest hope. Certainly in the present state of our knowledge it would seem that some direct irritation of the heart muscle should be tried before the patient is pronounced dead. The saving of even a few of those young lives would be a very precious advance for modern medicine.

POETRY
FOR TODAY

THE MAID OF AUTUMN.

A maiden walks the hills today
In garb of pearl and silver gray;
She wears a veil of jeweled mist
That can the keenest sight resist;
Her feet are bright in shiny shoon,
She moves as to a wedding tune.
And everywhere she gently goes
Fades every leaf, dies every rose;
The grasses change their summer hue,

The sky puts on a deeper blue;
The brook no more sings cheerily,
Its song grows dark with mystery.
When hills are gray with slant of rain

Some human hearts seek joy in vain;
The falling leaf, the fading rose
Each on their life a shadow throws.
They know of death, the long, deep sleep,

That partings come and hearts must weep.

But autumn has no grief for me,
For I have solved the mystery:
The maid who walks the quiet hills
And charms the happy singing rills
She is—her secret I'll confess—
The spring in just another dress!

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Ten Commandments.

Dr. William H. Evans, who for more than four years was health commissioner of Chicago, gives these ten commandments for longer and better living:

First—Go where you will breathe no bad air.

Second—Live simply, whoever you may be.

Third—Eat little, but eat that little long.

Fourth—Disinfect with sunshine and air.

Fifth—Avoid flies.

Sixth—Feed no unclean milk to your baby.

Seventh—Buy no food from unclean dealers.

Eighth—Keep out of crowds in pneumonia weather.

Ninth—Avoid careless people—careless consumptives, people careless of colds, scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles and typhoid fever.

Tenth—Earn health by right living. There is no royal road.

Easily Improved.

There was no getting away from the fact—Flossie's face was ugly. Even her best friends told her so and seldom visited her without offering her advice or suggesting some kind of remedy. But neither paint nor powder nor paste nor patent preparation was of the slightest use. Flossie's face continued to be ugly, and her friends continued to tell her so.

At last she consulted a specialist. "I am willing," she said, "to pay you anything if you will only make me beautiful. I should like you to start on my nose. Can you improve it?"

The specialist looked at it thoughtfully. Flossie's nose was her weakest point. Leaning back in his chair and half closing his eyes, in his best professional manner, he said:

"Well, madam, I can't guarantee to make it really beautiful, but I couldn't help improving it if I hit it with a mallet."

Honor Lincoln's War Secretary. Steubenville, O., Sept. 8.—With many prominent men of the country and thousands of visitors from Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and other states present, the heroic statue of Edwin M. Stanton, secretary of war under President Abraham Lincoln, was unveiled with in sight of his birthplace here. Lewis H. Stanton of New Orleans, a son of the war secretary, touched the cords that caused the covering to drop to the ground, exposing the massive bronze figure. A program of speaking in which Governor Harmon, Generals Nelson A. Miles, Daniel E. Sickles and Frederick D. Grant took part followed.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY REMEDY
(Liquid)

Is a great medicine of proven value for both acute and chronic kidney and bladder ailments and for annoying urinary irregularities. It is especially recommended to elderly people for its wonderful tonic and reconstructive qualities, and the permanent relief and comfort it gives them. L. McConnell, 117 Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., says: "Five bottles did the work for me most effectively and beyond doubt Foley's Kidney Remedy is the most reliable kidney medicine ever made." Blackmer & Tanquary.

Sent to Mining Congress.

Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—Governor Harmon has appointed the following delegates to the fourteenth annual session of the American Mining congress, to be held in Chicago Sept. 26-29, 1911: C. L. Cassingham, Cleveland; C. E. Maurer, Cleveland; G. C. Weitzell, Columbus; James Pritchard, Columbus; H. A. Laning, Jobs; James Allen, Nelsonville; Percy Titlow, Washingtonville; Sanford B. Belden, Columbus; Ernest M. Lied, Columbus.

Aims Higher This Time.

Massillon, O., Sept. 8.—Dr. R. W. Dickey, whose attempt to win votes by giving free ice cream festivals, band concerts and holding open-air meetings ended in his defeat for the Republican mayoralty nomination, announced his candidacy for congress.

Landslide Engulfs Buggy.

Martins Ferry, O., Sept. 8.—Horace Clark and his three sisters, Mary, Alice and Jennie, are suffering from injuries sustained when their buggy was caught in a small landslide and went over a 15-foot embankment. Their horse fell on top of them.

Q.—What did Jesus mean when he said, "There hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist, notwithstanding he that is least in the Kingdom of heaven is greater than he?" If I go to heaven how could I be greater than John the Baptist?

Answer.—John the Baptist was the greatest of all the Prophets. His predecessors prophesied the coming of the Savior, but John announced His presence. But neither John the Baptist, nor any of the Prophets, will be in the Kingdom of heaven with the Great King, and there is a reason. Before the way was opened for anyone to enter heaven Jesus must first die, be resurrected, ascend into heaven and make atonement for those who would become His associates in His Kingdom. Pentecost—ten days after the ascension of our Lord—marks the very day the heavenly was opened. John the Baptist and the other Prophets died long before that date, and are yet dead awaiting resurrection. If they could have gone to heaven prior to Jesus' death, such would have been conclusive proof that His death and resurrection were unnecessary. "These (John the Baptist and the other Prophets) all died in faith, not having received the promise, God having provided some better thing for us (the Church), that they without us should not be made perfect" (Hebrews xi, 8, 39, 40). The perfection of the Prophets (including John) will be as perfect men, made rulers in the earth, as representatives of Christ's Kingdom. "Instead of thy fathers they shall be thy children whom thou mayest make Princes (rulers) in all the earth" (Psalm xlv, 16). They will be glorious in the earth, but less glorious than those who attain to heavenly glory. "The glory of the celestial (heavenly) is one and the glory of the terrestrial (earthly) is another" (I Corinthians xv, 40), hence the least in the heavenly condition will be greater than the greatest in the earth.

By W. R. HATHAWAY

The reason that men of the Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford order "get by" with their dubious schemes, is their ability to keep their temper in the face of great provocation. Most men, when denounced as thieves and bunco-stealers, get into a rage and are ready to fight, but not so with the disciples of the Wallingford school. They will simply smile and gently assure the man who is denouncing them that he is wholly in the wrong and bless me if they don't usually succeed in making him sorry he has uttered such injurious language.

Not long since I had an experience with one of this type. I knew positively that he had done me out of many dollars and I pitched into him with the most vigorous English at my command.

Had he resented my talk I guess there would have been trouble, but he didn't, and at length I grew weary of conducting a one-sided fight.

When my verbal assault was over this Wallingford began to show me how entirely wrong I was from start to finish and one would have thought I had been blackening the fair fame of an angel.

What's more, he stuck by me till he had made me eat an expensive dinner as his guest, although I was morally sure he was paying for it with coin taken from me or some other innocent of my kind.

HIGH GRADE Flavoring Extracts

We prepare a line of flavoring extracts that every good cook should know about. These extracts are the finest that skill and care can produce. The ingredients used are the very best that money can buy. For strength, purity, delicacy and naturalness of flavor our extracts cannot be excelled. They cost no more than many inferior extracts. If they cost twice as much they would be the cheapest to buy—they go so much farther and produce so much better results.

A SUMMER SUIT.

Benny Bleat had but one suit
When he went to the shore
But that one surely was a beaut;
No man could wish for more.
He worked that suit to beat the band,
In fact, it got no rest -
And meanwhile, you may understand,
Another suit he pressed.
For Benny Bleat had always heard
That summer girls were fickle
And that their solemn plighted word
Was scarcely worth a nickel.
IT WAS A BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT!

So Benny got right on the job
In sunshine and in moonlight dim
And he made love to every squab -
For all looked pretty good to him.
He courted every girl he met
Upon the warm, wet strand,
Declared she was his one best bet
And asked her for her hand.
Thus for two weeks he played the game
The gay, unfeeling brute!
To find, when cool September came,
Hed got another suit!

Kerosene Oil Good

Cleanser for Kitchen

The soot that coats a frying pan can easily be taken off by sopping it with kerosene and scraping it off shortly afterwards with a pot chain. Kerosene should never be handled near the fire.

To cut the grease on the kitchen range kerosene is indispensable, but the stove should be perfectly cold before applying.

First dampen a rag with the oil and rub over the stove and follow this with a thorough rubbing with old newspapers, after which go over it with a rag dampened with a little benzine to evaporate the oil.

Do not build fire in the stove until this is evaporated, which will be generally a few hours.

Then wipe off nice and clean, after which give a coat of varnish. You will be surprised how little it will need blacking after the stove has been varnished.

The top is about the only part that becomes soiled, and which will need to be attended to with brush and blacking; the rest will need nothing more than wiping off with a soft rag.

Putting kerosene and ammonia in water when washing glass ornaments will give them a brightened appearance.

Washing the window panes with kerosene with keep them from frosting in cold weather, while at the same time giving a brighter light within the rooms.

Expert Advice on Milk for Babies

Dr. Eugene H. Porter, state commissioner of health, New York, in discussing the "Care of Milk," declared that cholera infantum is dependent almost entirely upon feeding upon impure milk, and that the municipality must do what the individual mother cannot do, see that the milk that she purchases for the child is fit to be used for food.

Dr. Porter embodies the contents of the circular of the New York City Sanitary Milk Dealers' association, recently issued, in which advice is given to the consumers of milk, and supplements it with some further recommendations. He says:

"Where a house is located in an isolated district it is not always possible to procure ice, so that even a makeshift refrigerator cannot be used. If this be the case, the milk may be kept fairly well by taking an ordinary butter or lard tub and putting into the bottom of it a three-inch layer of sawdust. Upon the sawdust rest a stoneware jar or crock, and surround this by sawdust. Put the milk bottles in the jar and pour into the latter sufficient water to just cover the bottles. Cover the whole with a sawdust or hay-stuffed cushion large enough to fit into the tub over the jar. The tub should be kept in the coolest place to be found, and if the above directions are carefully carried out, the temperature of the milk will seldom get more than one degree warmer than the water in the jar."

Milk bottled on the farm and kept in a temperature below 50 degrees Fahrenheit is far preferable to "dip milk," which is subject to contamination each time the can is opened, the commissioner contends. He advises that if "dip milk" is used that it be put into an absolutely clean receptacle, kept cool and free from flies and dust. He urges cleanliness in the bottling and other handling of milk at all times. He says regarding flies in milk:

"The mother who has learned that the common house fly is a carrier of disease would no sooner give her infant milk into which a fly has fallen than she would give it poison. When a fly alights in milk there is no way of telling whether or not its last resting place was on the slops from a sickroom or on a putrefying carcass, and the only safe way is to discard that milk or heat it to the boiling point before using it."

The nursing bottle is another menace and Dr. Porter makes these recommendations:

"Use only round bottles with round bottoms. Do not use rubber tubing; it is impossible to keep it clean. Get the simplest, most easily washed nipple obtainable. After feeding, rinse the bottle in cold or tepid water, then with hot water and a little washing soda or a good washing compound. Scrub well with a wire brush, rinse several times, then scald, and either invert in the sunlight where the air is free from dust, or fill with hot water and add a pinch of baking soda, and let stand until the next feeding; then rinse again thoroughly with hot water before pouring out the milk. Never let a nursing bottle stand unwashed or with the remains of a feeding in it; it is very difficult to make such a bottle clean from the strict sanitary standpoint."

In conclusion Dr. Porter says:

"These precautions may seem to be unnecessary. Our mothers never observed them and we are alive to tell the tale.

"The answer to this is that while we survived, the general infant mortality at that time was greater than it is now, and statistics show that care in infant feeding is the greatest factor in reducing the mortality. Even now the death rate among bottle-fed babies is twenty-five times as great as it is among breast-fed infants."

A GREAT ADVANTAGE TO WORKING MEN.

J. A. Maple, 125 S. 7th St., Steubenville, O., says:

"For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a severe bladder trouble. I learned of Foley Kidney Pills and their wonderful cures so I began taking them and sure enough I had as good results as any I heard about. My backache left me and to one of my business, expressman, that alone is a great advantage. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a misery. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me and have my highest praise." Blackmer & Tanquary.

Quantities Of Water Wasted

Investigators Report Conditions Bad at Buckeye Lake.

Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—Charles Follett and Jacob Schlossinger, special counsel appointed by Attorney General Hogan to investigate charges of waste of water and incompetent management at Buckeye Lake, verify the charges of millions of gallons of water wasted through leaky flumes and rotten woodwork. The two attorneys also found water-users along the canal to Newark taking more water than they had contracted for, or are paying for, and recommend that all of these contracts be abrogated and that the outlet of the lake at the head of the canal be completely closed with a stone wall.

Cubs Take Two Back in Race

Are Now Within One Game of National Leaders.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The Cubs licked the Cincinnati Reds in both games of a double-header, and climbed within one game of the New York Giants. The Cubs shut out the Reds 3 to 0 in the first game, due to the great pitching of Ruelback and the twenty-first home run of Frank Schulte. They bagged the second game, 4 to 2, making a great up-hill fight scoring runs in the eighth and winning when the game seemed to be lost.

Held For Robbery Of Hoboes

Pittsburg Man Charged With Holding Up Side Door Pullman.

Painesville, O., Sept. 8.—On the evidence of five Cleveland men, who said that two bandits robbed them on a Nickel Plate freight train near Willoughby, a man giving his name as Frank Davis of Pittsburg was bound over to the grand jury.

The victims said they were going to Painesville to pick mushrooms and were playing "seven up" in a box car when the two bandits entered it as the train was waiting on a siding. At their command to throw up hands, one offered resistance, but a shot through the hat subdued him. The bandits took the quintet's money and watches and part of their clothes, and then leaped from the train.

President Tamm's administration was endorsed and delegates were named and instructed to support him in the next national convention by the Alabama Republican convention.

THIS WEEK'S BONUS

OFFER A LIBERAL ONE

ALL CANDIDATES WORKING

For Extra Votes--Before This
Great Vote Offer Bargain
Expires

ALL "THOSE PROMISES" SHOULD BE COLLECTED

This will be the big hustle week in the Register-Herald Great Voting Contest. Each candidate should do her hard work now and get in a bunch of renewals and arrearages before this liberal offer expires. Do you realize that the winning of one of these big bonus votes means much towards a final victory Sept. 30? You never had a better prize winning opportunity than the one put before you by this great ballot bargain. Get busy now and be a hustler during the big hustle week.

PROMISED SUBSCRIPTIONS.

It is now time to get every vote possible instead of accepting promises "for the last." Promises are very good for a day or so, but you will find that a year's subscription paid is far better than a two years' subscription promised. Your friends mean well when they promise but they sometimes forget or else something turns up which causes them to change their minds and you lose several hundred votes which you might as well have collected at once. Do not be put off by promises. It is just as easy for a man to pay today as a week from today.

The close of last week's special offer marked big gains in the standing of several of the candidates who were at the bottom of the list. These candidates apparently were doing nothing, but the truth was they were silently working their way to the top by taking advantage of the special vote offer.

The same condition will prevail during the present offer and some of the candidates will probably jump to the front by simply taking advantage of the bargain offered.

Extra Votes for Old Subscriptions

From Thursday, September 7th to Thursday, Sept. 14th at 5:30 p. m., extra votes for Old Subscriptions will be given as follows:
For $15.00 in Old Subscriptions, 10,000 extra votes will be given.
For $30.00 in Old Subscriptions, 25,000 extra votes will be given.
For $45.00 in Old Subscriptions, 45,000 extra votes will be given.
For $60.00 in Old Subscriptions, 70,000 extra votes will be given.
These extra votes will be allowed besides the regular number given for each subscription and should not be confused with the Double Vote Offer for subscription for $2.90 or more which closes Sept. 16th.

Attention, Contestants

Your attention is hereby called to the Great Double Vote offer which began Saturday Sept. 2, and lasts until the evening of Saturday, September 16.

The big double vote offer above mentioned has been inaugurated for the purpose of allowing hustling candidates "to do big things." It is possible under this offer for contestants to show to advantage just what they are capable of doing in an effort to capture the elegant prizes.

Contestants will bear in mind that this double vote offer does not effect the other offers now in force, or yet to be made, but is in addition thereto.

Below we publish for your guidance the complete double vote offer which will be in force and effect during this period. Examine it carefully in order that you may fully acquaint yourselves with its importance.

Please note that there is no increase in the number of votes given on $1.00 subscriptions to either the Register or Herald. To secure the benefit of the Great Double Vote Offer, subscriptions to the Register, new or old, must cover two years, and to the Herald, must cover at least six months. The longer the time on either paper, the larger the vote.

$200 Circassian Walnut Bedroom Suite.
$125 Diamond Ring.
$75 Diamond Ring.
$40 Haviland & Co. China Dinner Set.

WHO ARE ELIGIBLE.

Any lady or gentleman living in Washington or in Fayette or adjoining counties will be eligible to enter the great contest.

HOW TO ENTER CONTEST.

It costs you absolutely nothing to enter the contest. All that is necessary is for you or one of your friends to cut a nomination blank from the Ohio State Register or Washington Daily Herald, fill it out with your name or that of a friend and mail or bring it to the Contest Manager at the Register-Herald office; that will start you in the contest with 500 votes. You may also clip the vote coupons which will be found in this issue and that will count you 100 more votes.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO.

The person who receives the largest number of votes in the entire contest will receive the Schaff Bros. Player Piano. The person who receives the second highest number of votes will receive the H. Link & Son Upright Piano with this restriction, that if the player piano is won in district No. 1, the upright piano must be awarded to the opposite district, or vice versa. In this way one of the grand prizes will be won in Washington and one outside of Washington. After the grand prizes have been awarded, the names of the winners will be stricken from the list and the holders of the first places will then be given the prizes known as District 1st prize. The same plan will be used in awarding the District 2d prizes.

Remember, three prizes will be given to each district, and each and every candidate will receive a square deal. One district will not have the advantage over another. District No. 1 will receive a grand prize and two district prizes. District No. 2 will also receive a grand prize and two district prizes.

Address all communications to the Contest Manager, Register-Herald, Washington C. H., Ohio. See the Contest Manager for instructions and all details of the contest.

THE DISTRICTS.

District No. 1 comprises the incorporated limits of Washington C. H. towns and villages therein.

District No. 2 comprises the county of Fayette outside of Washington and the adjoining counties, including the votes.

Coronation Cloth.

Coronation Cloth is a Novelty Fabric of British origin, introduced upon the occasion of the ascension to the throne of Edward VII. in Woolen or unfinished Worsted Suitings of solid ground staple colors. It is a cloth upon which there are single thread stripe decorations running lengthwise of the goods about an inch apart, of gold or tinsel. A variation of the Coronation Cloth with Red, or White, or Blue Yarns substituted for the metallic threads, was adopted in the United States.

Will Soon Be Leader.

"She might, for example, be compelled later on to admit reciprocity in the murder rate of the United States, which at present I believe is something over 150 per 1,000,000 per annum.

"If these proposals had been made a generation ago, or if the Dominion were today poor, depressed and without hope, one would perhaps understand their being discussed, but Canada is none of these things. She is a nation, and as the lives of nations are reckoned will ere long be among the great nations.

"Why, then, when she has made herself what she is, should she throw the enormous gifts of her inheritance and her future into the hands of a people, who by their haste and waste have so dissipated their own resources that even before national middle age they are driven to seek virgin fields for cheaper food and living?

"Whatever the United States may gain, and I presume that the United States' proposals are not wholly altruistic, I see nothing for Canada in reciprocity except a little ready money, which she does not need, and a very long repentance."

Must Keep

Within Limit

Threatening to inspire impeachment proceedings against any county officials who insist on disobeying the law limiting the amount for road levies, the state tax commission issued a statement in which it warned county commissioners not to levy what they please in disregard of the 1 per cent. limit fixed by the Smith tax law.

Word has come to the commission that several commissioners throughout the state had declared that they would levy at will up to five mills in addition to the amounts authorized by the Smith law. It is claimed by some that they have authority under the provision excluding levies for emergency purposes. This the commission denies.

Part of the statement attacks the claim, set up by a Franklin county official, that school boards might levy under the provision excluding levies without regard to the 1 per cent. law. This had been given wide circulation and called forth the commission's denial when it learned that the alleged discovery had been taken seriously.

Playing Off a Tie.

The last scene in the fashionable life of the Count D'Orsay as told in Mr. Teignmouth Shore's biography of him: Just before the dinner hour a party cook's boy presented himself at Gore

House with a dish sent in, so he said, by the confectioner. Having left this in the kitchen, he deliberately walked upstairs to the count's dressing room.

"Well, who's that?" asked D'Orsay.

It was a sherriff's officer. "Really?" exclaimed D'Orsay and demanded that he should be permitted to complete the tying of his tie. Salon or prison, his tie must be perfect.

"But, count—"

"Bah, bah! All in good time." The officer was quite interested in the tying of that tie. Few men had been so honored as to be allowed to see how D'Orsay tied his tie, and, lo, by the time the tie was tied the sun had sunk to rest and D'Orsay was free till sunrise!

"John," said D'Orsay, calmly walking off to the drawing room, "kick this chap out of the door."

"The which was executed and the writ was not."

Example.
We scatter seeds with careless hand
And dream we never shall see them more.
But for a thousand years
Their fruit appears
In weeds that mar the land
Or healthful store.

The deeds we do, the words we say,
Into still air they seem to fleet.
We count them ever past,
But they shall last—
In the dread judgment they
And we shall meet.

I charge thee by the years gone by,
For the love's sake of brethren dear,
Keep thou the one true way,
In work and play,
Lest in that world their cry
Of woe thou hear.

Drama

A Spanish Love Song

With excellent acting and clear photography there is nothing lacking to make this an entertaining and interesting picture. There are many dramatic situations and pretty scenes. It is a very acceptable film.

It's the story of a tramp who "stowed away" on board a ship and proved so worthless that he was put ashore at Hong Kong, China. Chinese roughs insult the Stars and Stripes, and the sailor pitches into the whole crowd and gets knocked out badly. His old shipmates, passing, see his plight and carry him back to the ship. The Hong Kong scenes are very well produced, and the play is interesting. John Bunny's friends will be surprised and delighted at seeing him as a fat Chinaman.

Vessel That Tried to Ram Iceberg Not Seriously Damaged.

New York, Aug. 7.—The Anchor line steamer Columbia, which struck an iceberg at sea, arrived in port. On entering the narrows it could be seen that the stem of the ship above water was smashed in and two sailors were over the side furling up the canvas drag which had been placed over the bow. The hull appeared intact below the water line.

The officers were not very willing to talk about the accident, but it was learned that the passengers were at dinner in the main saloon when the crash came. It is said the shock was not great and the steamer's officers spread quickly about the decks, saloons and steerage, reassuring the passengers so that what little alarm appeared at the time soon subsided, and all who could went forward on deck to see what was the matter. The steamer had been stopped dead owing to the dense fog which prevailed, and the captain was on the bridge when, without warning from the lookout or others, the sharp stem cut into an iceberg, bringing down on the deck tons of ice.

The steamer's engines were reversed, a hasty inspection was made of the forepeak to see if the water was coming in, and men were sent over the side to learn the extent of the damages. It was seen that the damage was not serious, and the steamer proceeded slowly until daylight, when canvas was stretched over the bow to keep out the water when the steamer forged ahead.

MARRIED LIFE, SECOND YEAR

"THAT RED LIGHT" way over there beyond the light house—what do you suppose that is?"

"Just some tramp steamer," answered Warren, "a lot of them pass along out there."

"And there's another motor boat! How aggressive they sound, such an assertive snorting, isn't it? Look, you can see it now—it's coming into that strip of moonlight. Oh," as a huge wave rolled up almost to their feet, "hadn't we better move back a little?"

"We'll go in now in a moment," drawing out his watch. "It's twenty minutes of nine."

"Oh, that isn't late and it's so lovely out here," pleaded Helen. "See, we can move Winifred back without waking her," gently pulling the steamer rug upon which Winifred was sleeping. "Oh, look, I love to watch the waves roll up like that. It seems as though each one was trying to go beyond the other. See how they fall back to gather force for another effort."

Warren yawned and leaned back on the sand. He had taken off his coat and folded it up under his head, and as he lay stretched out there in the moonlight, the strong lines of his figure had never shown to better advantage.

Six feet and 190 pounds! Helen thought proudly as she looked at him. From the first time long ago Warren had told her his height and weight, they had been to her ever since the standard of man's physique.

It is a curious thing that a slight, delicate refined woman will worship the splendid physique of the man she loves far more than would a woman of coarser grain.

To her, Warren's broad chest, his long clean limbs and iron muscles were an ever present cause for pride and delight. And when anyone spoke of a fine looking man she would ask quickly: "How tall is he? About what does he weigh?"

And if the answer was less than six feet and 190 pounds, she would make no comment, but her silence would be full of a superior consciousness of Warren's physical perfection. And now she ran her hand along the shirt-sleeved arm that lay beside her. "You won't take cold, dear, without your coat?"

"Nonsense! On a night like this?" For several moments they watched the sea in silence, while she softly poured sand over his out-stretched hand.

"Doesn't that feel cool? Don't you love the feel of sand?"

He submitted indifferently while she buried his hand in the sand and then tunneled her own under to meet it.

The faint white sail of a distant vessel passed now through the strip of moonlight. The waves rolled up nearer and nearer, leaving an outline of seething white froth.

The revolving light of the light-house flashed up and out again, lighting up the dark waters around it. There were no stars, but the moon shone clearly from a break in the clouds. And over it all was the fresh salt smell and the haunting roar of the sea.

"Warren, do you remember that evening before we were married when we sat on the beach and buried those notes in the sand?"

"What notes?"

"Oh, don't you remember? We each wrote on a slip of paper the thing we most wished for, and then we folded them up and put them between two clam shells and buried them. Surely you haven't forgotten that?"

"Well, what of it?"

"Oh, I've often wondered what you wrote. I thought then that some time in years after we'd come back and dig them up and read them. I tried to remember the place, to mark it by a distant tree and cottage. Isn't that the way you locate buried treasures?"

"Hm—m."

"What did you write, Warren? Do tell me, I've so often wanted to know."

"Heavens! I don't remember now!"

"Oh, you do—surely you do! It was to be the thing you wished for more than anything else in the world. You couldn't have forgotten that?"

"Probably didn't write anything—was just humoring one of your whims. George!" slapping his ankle, "there's another of those infernal mosquitos. Did you have that net put up over our bed today?"

"Yes, dear, and one over Winifred's cot. I told the housekeeper we must have them."

"Well, I should say so! Imagine running a hotel down here without screens! Come on," getting up and shaking the sand from his clothes "I want to get some sleep tonight."

ABSENT MINDED.

She—I know there's something that I've forgotten to buy.
He—That's just what I thought.
She—Why.
He—Because you have some money left.

LOGIC.

Guest—Why did you put me in that weak bed?
Host—You had said you were a light sleeper.

Germany Replies to France.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—The French ambassador, Jules Cambon, was closeted with Herr Von Kiderlin-Waechter, the German foreign minister, and it is understood that Kiderlin-Waechter gave M. Cambon, Germany's reply to France. There is absolute official secrecy maintained, and the most trustworthy reports are extremely optimistic. According to one of these reports there is still a wide difference between German and French points of view, but the differences are in details rather than in essentials. There is extreme nervousness on the continent.

$600 Schaff Bro. Player Piano

First Grand Prize 2nd Grand Prize

$600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano

This beautiful Player Piano will be given to the person having the largest number of votes in the Register-Herald's Great Voting Contest, and was bought of J. A. Smalley, who will shortly have the instrument on exhibition at his store-room on West Court St., next door to the T. C. DeWees photo gallery, also in Exhibition hall at the County Fair next week.

This player piano carries with it an unlimited warranty and is the most simply constructed player on the market, one lever acting for the tempo, start, stop and rewind, making it possible for a child to operate it and play any style of music, from ragtime to the most classical.

The tone of this instrument, its volume of sound and artistic workmanship have earned for it the distinction of being one of the finest player pianos ever brought into Fayette county. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street and examine this prize.

$265 Link & Son Piano

This piano, also made by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ill., and Huntington, Ind., has no equal on the market for the price. The people making this piano have been located in Chicago since the year 1868, since which time their financial rating has been unsurpassed by any of their competitors. They were the first firm to make upright pianos in Chicago after the great fire of 1872, and a steady improvement has marked the quality of their product ever since.

This piano was purchased from J. A. Smalley and is on exhibition at the storeroom next to the DeWeese photograph gallery. The many excellent features of this instrument, combining a double veneered maple-lined mahogany case, light, perfectly balanced and sympathetic action and soft mellow tone make it one that anyone who is a lover of music would be proud to own.

$265 Link & Son Piano

DISTRICT FIRST PRIZE

$200 Bed Room Suite

In Circassian Walnut, consisting of one standard sized Dresser, one Chiffonier with five large drawers, and one Bed with the new style roll top head and foot boards.

This suite would adorn a palace. It is a prize that will stand the test of time. It will ever be a thing of beauty, fit to hand down to children and grandchildren as an heirloom of Twentieth Century art.

This prize can be seen at the store of The Fayette County Hardware Co., where it was purchased. This firm's well known reputation for square dealing is a sufficient guarantee that this beautiful prize is all that is claimed for it.

DISTRICT SECOND PRIZE

$40 HAVILAND CHINA DINNER SET

This eighty-piece genuine Haviland China Dinner Set, which was purchased of S. S. Cockerill & Son, will be awarded as the District Second Prize.

Haviland & Co., the makers of this beautiful ware, and S. S. Cockerill & Son, the local dealers, guarantee each piece in this set to be absolutely perfect in every way. Each piece bears two stamps. The green one shows that the body of the article was made by Haviland & Co., while the red stamp is a guarantee that the decorations are also a work of this wonderful factory. When examining these dishes please note that they bear both the green and red stamps.

This ware is beautifully decorated in gold, and each piece has been kept free from water so that the monogram of the owner may be put on if desired. The set consists of the following articles: 12 Dinner Plates, 12 Pie Plates, 12 B. and B. Plates, 12 Teas and Saucers, 12 Fruit Saucers, 1 meat Platter, 1 Footed Salad Dish, 1 Baker, 1 Sauce Boat, 1 Covered Sugar and 1 Creamer, forming a prize that will not only be appreciated by the winner and admired by all her friends, but that is as good as money will buy.

DISTRICT FIRST PRIZE

$125 Diamond Ring

This ring was purchased at the store of C. A. Gossard & Co., who guarantee it to be a pure and flawless stone. If C. A. Gossard & Co. added not one word of assurance, this beautiful little gem would speak for itself.

The perfect color, correct cut and proportion give it the scintillating brilliancy that comes only in the perfect stone. It is a gem no better than which adorns the hand of royalty—it is a prize that any young lady may well strive for.

To the energetic woman who wins it, this beautiful gem will be as a legacy in the bank. Its value is eternal and can never grow less. The person who wins this prize is not required to take the ring which we have selected, but CAN HAVE THE CHOICE OF ALL $125 DIAMONDS in the store of C. A. Gossard & Co.

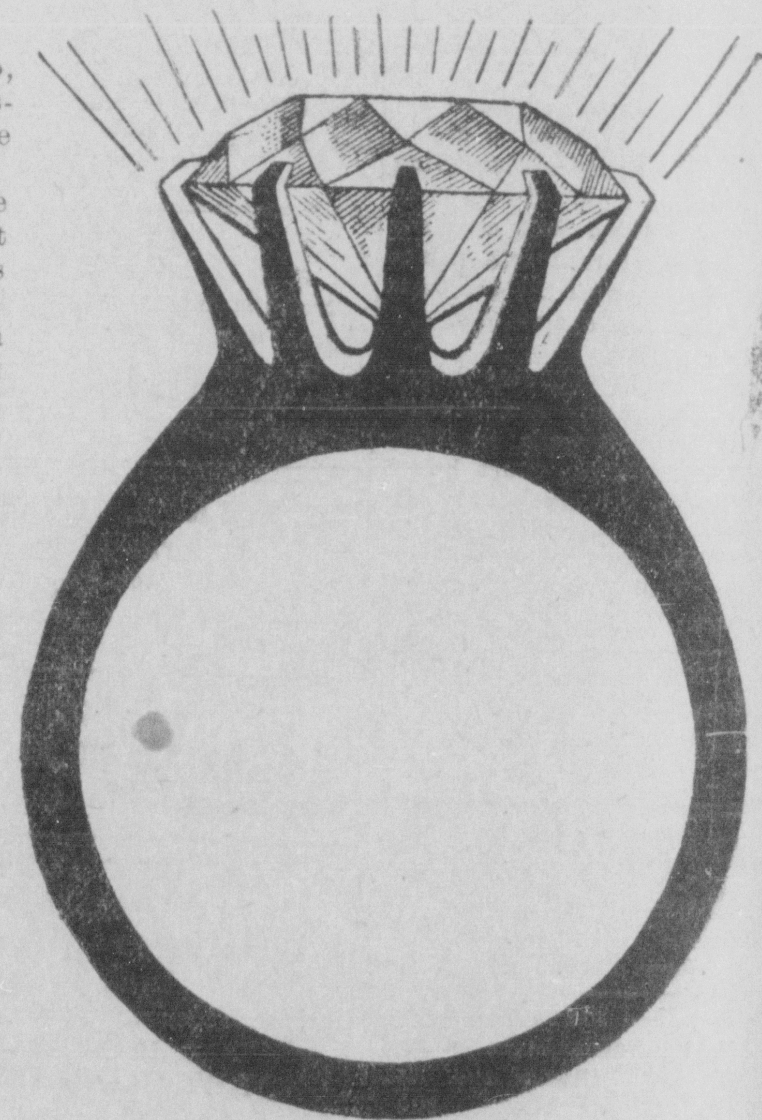

DISTRICT SECOND PRIZE

$75.00 Diamond Ring

This stone, purchased of W. H. Hettesheimer, Jeweler, is not quite as large as the diamond offered as the District First Prize, but it is a good sized gem, perfect in color and absolutely flawless. It has a Tiffany setting, and will make a splendid prize for some worthy young lady.

W. H. Hettesheimer guarantees this ring to be exactly as it is here advertised, and the person who wins it can have their CHOICE OF $75 DIAMONDS IN HETTESHEIMER'S store.

Young ladies, here is a chance to secure that coveted diamond. Perhaps you may never have the opportunity of getting another. Some person is going to be the proud possessor of this valuable prize. Why not you? It will not cost you a cent.
